Tularcitos hosts a luau

BY MILDRED HATTON

The next best thing to boarding a flight to an island escape last week would have been to be a part of "Operation Hawaii" — an educational experience to be long remembered by the students, families and friends of Tularcitos faculty members, Herb Reuter and Pat Allen.

Herb, discussing the ambitious project, said, "The Luau held Saturday at the CV Community Youth Center, was a climaxing activity relevant to the study of Hawaii. Pat and I thought this would be a way in which we could recognize the efforts of our kids, their parents and our support staff personnel."

"Both Pat and I have always felt a school is more than the teacher and the classroom and that a child's success is based on the cooperation and help from home, the support staff and lastly their teachers who interweave the two.

brought from the Islands by an anonymous friend.

The fire pit was dug by one of Herb's former students, Steve Rial, and the fire was set up on Friday afternoon by Rolan Ordania and David Rosa, two friends from the Hawaiian Club in Seaside who left at 7:00 p.m. and returned at 3:00 a.m. to supervise the 450 pounds of meat wrapped in cauliflower leaves (in lieu of Banana leaves), burlap, and packed in Hawaiian lava rock to cook until early afternoon when more than 250 persons arrived with hearty appetites.

The Center was beautifully decorated by Mrs. Ken van Hagen and her daughters with palm fronds and exotic flowers.

Some of the students had tie-dyed mumus from sheets and entertained the guests with "Hukilaua." Sal Verde obtained items for door prizes from Valley merchants and Mrs. Eugene Kerfoot, who also handled reservations, headed the ticket sales. The classes wish to thank the following for their support: Voskay's, CV Market, Village Market, Talbott Ties, Village House, Taylor Craft Inc., Murphy Lumber Yard, CV Cleaners, Village Cafe, CV General Store, Buckeye Restaurant, TP's Handcrafted Gifts, Rohan's Texaco, CV Appliance, The Chatter Box, Mel Thau and Verde's Upholstery.

The Kalua Pig committee included; Bill Parham, chairman, Dan Weiss, Charlie Flamini, Sonny Azcarate, and Steve Rial.

Parent committee members were; Messrs. and Mmes. Larry Cisneros, Ben O'Hara, William Brodsley, Jack Bufington, Dennis Norrby, and Doug Pease. Also Mmes. John Crivello, Illbert Tucker, R.L. Nicholson, and Nancy Hardisty.

Of course none of the Wahinis (ladies) or Kanakas (men) arriving in colorful Hawaiian gowns and Aloha shirts could possibly have known the PUPULE (crazy) behind-the-scenes hours devoted by the Allans and the Reuters to create such a special ceremony for their Keikis (children).

Slaughtering the pigs to obtain necessary health certification necessitated a trip to Stockton to the Allen Meat Co. Herb and Pat set out with their trucks and trailers one morning at five; made a wrong turn detour via San Luis Obispo, stopping at EVERY farm over and back to pick up palm branches, fruits and vegetables for the Luau. Most of the growers were so impressed with their ambitious project that they happily contributed something to its success.

Enroute home in Los Banos at 7:00 p.m. on a Sunday night, the hitch on Pat's heavily loaded trailer separated — more frustration and delay for repairs.

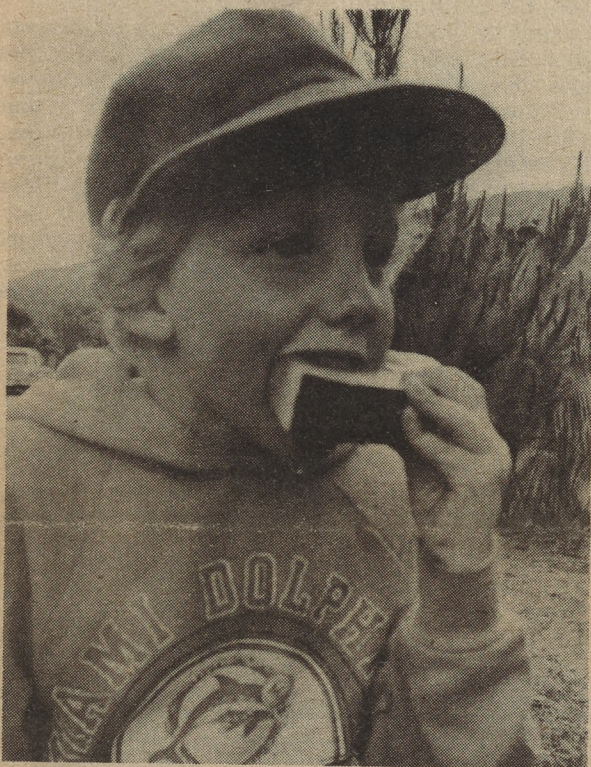

The Reuters stayed at the Center Friday night with Donna leaving at 4:00 a.m. to make her newspaper deliveries and return for a long day of hard work.

The coals in the pit were STILL glowing on Saturday when Herb was overheard discussing "next year — with a different theme!"

"Mahalo" — (thank you) — Herb and Pat for your imagination, contagious enthusiasm, and success!

A DELICATE OPERATION. No matter how you slice it, everyone ate pork aplenty at Saturday's luau at the Community Center.

THE BEST OF BOTH WORLDS. A Miami Dolphin fan dons a baseball cap while polishing off a melon — right down to the rind.

This year we have extended our resources out to the surrounding Valley community, and our neighbors in Prunedale and Seaside.

Our main dish — Kalua (roasted) Pig — was obtained from Abb Buckman's ranch in Prunedale and raised by our classes with scraps from the cafeteria."

Complimenting the main course were pea pods, yams, eggplant, watermelons, tomatoes, string beans, celery; many of which Pat's father, Jack Allen, of Nogales and some of the valley parents helped obtain. There were also quantities of bananas, a coconut for each child to decorate for the tables, 12 cases of fresh pineapples, and 12 cases of papayas

Eisners buy Pine Cone

Albert and Judith Eisner of Carmel Valley have entered into an agreement to purchase the Carmel Pine Cone and the Carmel Valley Outlook from Donrey Media Group, effective June 1, 1977.

Mr. Eisner, editor and publisher of the Monterey Peninsula Review, a visitor-oriented tabloid weekly, was editor of the Pine Cone and Outlook from 1970-1973. During his tenure as editor, the weekly newspapers won awards for General Excellence and Community Service from the California Newspaper Publishers' Association.

The Pine Cone has published continuously since 1915. It is the official newspaper of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea. The Outlook circulates in the neighboring Carmel Valley area.

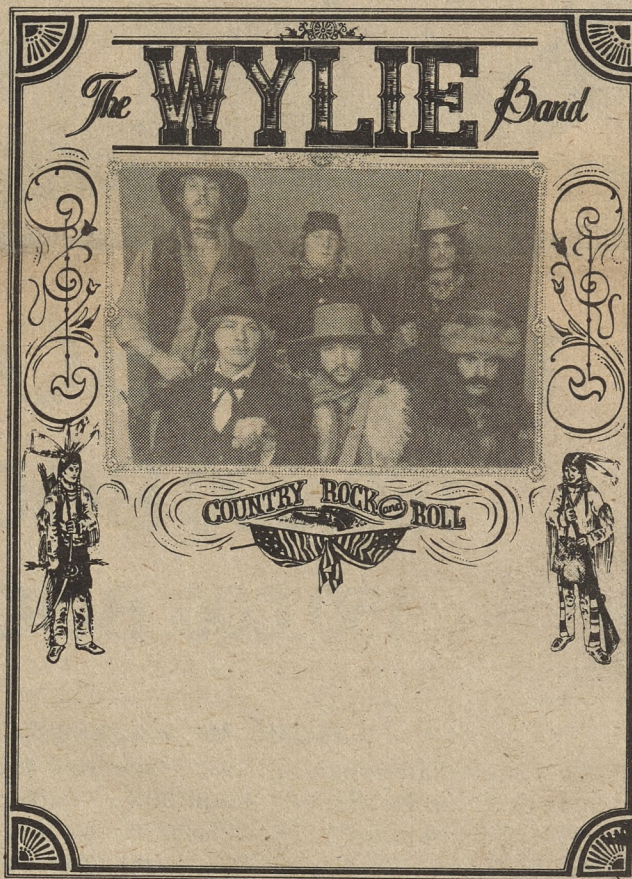

Included in the purchase are the presses and equipment in the newspaper's Carmel Valley plant.

Mr. Eisner, active in civic and community affairs, is former president of the Carmel Valley Property Owners' Assn., and served on the board of directors of the Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce. A member of the Carmel Rotary Club, he holds board memberships in the Forest Theater Guild, the Carmel Music Society and other cultural organizations.

Mr. and Mrs. Eisner have lived in Carmel Valley with their children, Alexander and Jessica, since 1969.

RIGHT DOWN TO THE BONE. Luau cooks used knives, hands and fingers to rip the sweetest meat from the pig carcass.

The WYLIE BAND will be in concert Saturday night, 8:00 p.m. at Monterey Peninsula College. Locally formed, the musical group recently returned from Colorado where they attained a "Rocky Mountain High" with their successful bookings at clubs and resorts. Two Carmel Valley young men contribute their talents and wiles to the Wylies — John Tobias (bottom right) son of Elaine and John Tobias, and John Mirani (center back), son of Nellie and Theo Mirani. Catch their Country Rock and Roll on Saturday — tickets at the door.

Board meeting

Garland outing

The regular meeting of the board of directors of the Monterey Peninsula Regional Park District will be held at Garland Ranch Regional Park Saturday at 10 a.m.

Following the formal meeting, a hike to the "Mesa" will take place (1.5 miles) along hiking trails newly constructed by the Boy Scouts and the Sierra Club. The hike is scheduled to begin at 11 a.m., with a noon dedication of the Frank Lang Memorial, followed with a picnic lunch on the Mesa.

The public is encouraged to join the board in the outing. Those attending should wear appropriate shoes and to bring their lunch.

Indian demonstration

Carmelo students in the fourth and fifth grades enjoyed a lecture demonstration in Indian Lore recently when five students from California State College gave a performance in South Indian singing which progressed from the simplest patterns to the more complex forms of their music. The group demonstrated how they are trained to sing tala (rhythm), raga (melody), and how this ultimately leads to improvisation.

Successful blood bank

Carmel Valley Volunteer firemen took down the new Blood Bank banner Friday which Chairman Marjorie McKiernon felt contributed to the success of 112 prospective donors reporting to the Carmel Valley Community Youth Center — 99 of whom were accepted at the drawing.

Also an important pre-Bank factor were the reservation tables manned by Mmes. Richard King, Robert Arnal, Charles Richmond, John Powers, Marie Rich, Henry Wilson, Edward Chappell, James Miller, John Scudder, T.B. McKiernon. Also the telephone committee who included; Mmes. Vera Stokes, John Kvenild, Samuel Klemek, Otto Huebner, Gordon Crosby, John Darch, Carl Naslund, Jerome Romis, and Walter Kiragawa.

"An old oak leaf cluster" to them and to the other volunteers including: Mrs. James Miller, Tom Little, Jeff Harber, and Bill Holland.

Of course the V.I.P.'s at any drawing are the donors who included Sal Verde, Walley Levalley, Tom Little, Nick Zanides, Steve Antoncich, Betty Groves, Marcia Lockwood, Eric Wilford, Nickolas Brockman, John Conne, Kalani Fonseca, Dolores Jackson, William Jackson, Scott Swiess, Walt Mauzey, William Hamilton, Ruth Bishop, Lou Allaire, Sandi Cisneros, Mary Schalla, Larry Cisneros, Peggy Hicks, Steve Boudreau, Gordon Miyamoto, Laura Wolf, Bill Farr, Randy Randazzo, Mary Jernegan, Kathy Little, Raymond Danielson, Jr., Don Johnson, Roy McBeth, Lynda Baker, Harold Meadows, Claire Stewart, June Mauzey, Dick McKenzie, Barbara Wilson, Evelyn Niebla, Eileen Gardner, Lawrence Gardner, Alex Olmsted, Josephine Diaz, Jeff Frye, Alice McDonald, Maria Gonzales, Heide Miguel, Sheryl Thomas, Mary Giffen, Barbara Allard, Steven G. ## CVPOA adds members

At the Board of Directors meeting on May 5th, a report on membership listed a substantial increase in the number of new members in the past few months. The Association's roster is now more than double the number of dues-paid members of this time last year. At the general membership meeting last month, guest speaker Henry Mello spoke on items of interest to Carmel Valley residents. The board reviewed some of these for further study or action. Included were taxes applied to agricultural land on the basis of actual income rather than potential value, and the limitations of the Williamson Act versus its advantages.

The board, pursuing the subject of Valley incorporation (which surfaced at the general membership meeting), decided that the Association will undertake to research this subject as one of several directions the area residents may wish to explore.

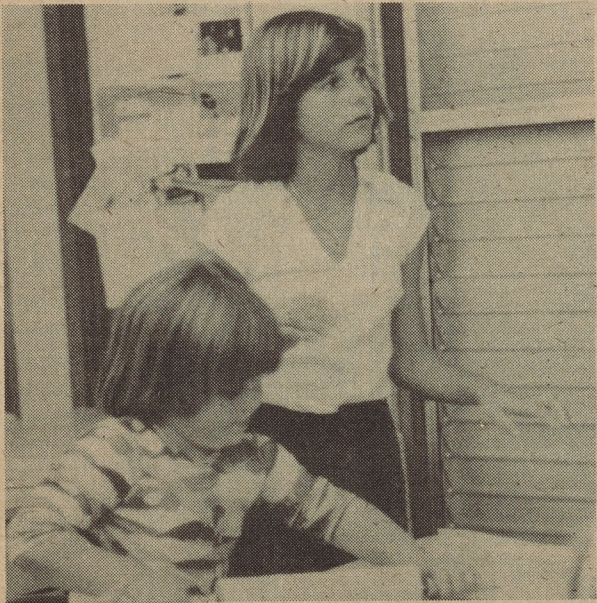

The next Board of Directors meeting, scheduled for June 2nd, will be held at Los Laureles Lodge.

IT'S GOING TO BE A LONG, DRY, EXPENSIVE SUMMER.

WHAT HAS THE DROUGHT DONE TO POWER SUPPLIES?

The drought is already having its effect on PG&E's ability to generate electric power this year. Here are the facts:

In a normal year, much of PG&E's electricity is generated by water power. The drought has reduced our hydroelectric generating capacity to less than half of normal. By summer, we expect our reservoirs to be at all-time lows. Any chance of getting enough rain or snow to solve the problem just about disappeared by mid-March.

Last year was also a drought year. But we were able to buy large amounts of hydroelectric power from the Pacific Northwest. This year we can't. Water conditions there are so far below normal that a 10% cutback in power usage has been ordered. So no power at all is available to us from that source this year.

Our Diablo Canyon Nuclear Plant has the capacity to fill the gap. But it is not in operation because it is still in the process of being licensed.

To make up for the missing hydro power this year, we are working our steam-electric generating plants (fueled mostly by oil) overtime. We are also buying power from Southern California and Nevada utilities. The amounts available may or may not be enough to meet all our customers' demands during peak periods in coming months. If there is not enough power to go around, our customers will be asked to cut back their use even more than now. Power shortages that require actual power cutoffs to groups of customers will occur only if voluntary cutbacks fail to work. Or if there is a breakdown of major steam-electric generating equipment. (Such breakdowns, unfortunately, are more apt to happen when generating equipment works overtime, as now.)

WHAT ABOUT THE COSTS TO YOU?

With hydroelectric capacity sharply reduced, it takes more oil to run our steam-electric generating plants. This oil, mostly imported, costs almost $15 a barrel. We will need to burn at least 50 million barrels of it this year—compared to less than 27 million last year. And the more oil we burn, the more electricity will cost.

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

If ever the need to conserve energy were clear, it is now. Saving kilowatt hours not only helps relieve the energy shortage, it also saves you real money. Just call or visit your nearest PG&E office. We will provide you with information on how you can cut down on your use of electricity without disrupting your home or business.

Save energy. You'll save money, too.

Spring horse show

There were numerous Valley entries in the Second Annual Spring Horse Show sponsored by Region X California State Horsemen's Association at Bolado Park in Hollister.

It proved to be a memorable day for two Valley teenagers who were named CHAMPION in two divisions. Kevin Hall was awarded Champion in the English High Point — 15-17 year old with Tracy Ward of Clovis qualifying as Reserve.

The Western High Point 15-17 year old champion was awarded to C.V.'s Mickey Cummings; with the Reserve a tie between another Valley youth, Bill Wilson and Carol Kracht of Monterey.

Spring Floral Decor

Spring flowers decorated the tables, tallies, and prizes at the April benefit bridge and canasta party given by the Social Club of the Carmel Valley Community Chapel Guild. Cakes of pink, white, and yellow were placed about the centerpiece of roses on the dessert table by co-hostesses Jean Stekly and Vera Bautz.

Tiny perfume bottles tucked into fresh flowers were presented as table prizes to Ann Werdelman, Millie Grant, Rachel Swanson, Muriel Dawson, Dorothy Meckenlenberg, Martha Huff, Kathryn Walker, and Vera Bautz.

First place bridge and canasta winners presented with sets of floral talcum were Mary Fielo and Vera Stokes. Floral cologne went to second place bridge winner, Bernice Leoni and second place canasta winner, Kathryn Walker.

Martha Huff and Mary Young will co-host the May 18 party to be held in Fellowship Hall. Reservations may be made by phoning Nellie Mirani, 659-2454.

visitors are cordially invited to a Benefit Breakfast on Sunday, May 15, from 10-1:00.

Donations of $2.00 per adult and $1.00 for children will provide those attending with a hearty serving of pancakes, bacon, eggs — coffee for adults and orange juice for children.

Door prizes will be the ten attractive floral arrangements by Ruth Allaire and Myrna Weber.

Among those assisting chairman Ray Lucido will be his wife, Pat; and Mr. and Mrs. David Stainbrook, Mrs. Kevin Walsh, Mrs. Ron Hentges, Mrs. Sam Klemek, Jack Wade, Dean Diaz, and Lou Allaire.

CV Women's Club

At their May meeting held at the Elk's Club in Monterey, the Carmel Valley women's Club elected officers for the Club year 1977-78 to be installed at a luncheon meeting on June 1. Mrs. Irwin Johnson was elected president, Mrs. Ernest Etherton, vice president, Mrs. Robert Grant, treasurer, Mrs. R.F. O'Hartnett, recording secretary, and Mrs. S.N. Trevino, corresponding secretary. The four directors elected were; Mrs. Charles Dawson, Mrs. Richard Dick, Mrs. Leslie Biggens, and Mrs. George Toole. Mrs. C.C. Sargent continues as a director for the second year of her two year term.

Preceding the business meeting the club members and guests enjoyed a delightful program by the Russian Folk Ensemble of the Defense Language Institute. Under the direction of Mr. Alexander Holodiloff and Mr. Serge Sinkevich, the members of the ensemble presented the Russian Folk dances, choral music, and several members of the Balalaika orchestra.

Solar amendment

"There are few energy sources on the horizon that are as hopeful and exciting as solar power," stated Congressman Leon Panetta, who added, "It is important now that we continue to research and begin making practical applications of this resource."

The Valleyite cosponsored the solar energy amendment which was unanimously adopted by the House Agriculture Committee and made a part of the overall farm bill scheduled to reach the House floor in May.

The measure includes a wider application in agriculture industry; crop drying experiments; irrigation pumps, cooling systems and authorizing the Farmers Home Administration to cover solar energy equipment with their housing and farm equipment loans.

by Lucy Smithson

Horse lovers are animal lovers. You don't very often find a horse owner who owns only a horse. Usually he's got cats, chickens, a dog or three, and a tank of guppies in the bathroom.

The point we're trying to make is that most horse owners are also dog owners. But not all dog owners are also horse owners. Today's column is written for this latter group—the unhorsed dog owners.

People who know both dogs and horses know something that simple dog owners may not know. They know that like small children, you can't always turn dogs and horses loose together. Without adult supervision some kind of squabble is certain to happen. Mama keeps her eye and sometimes a lead shank on either the horses or the dogs or on really exciting days — both.

This is what the horse plus dog (and cat, chicken and guppy) owner knows: Sometimes dogs chase horses. Sometimes horses chase dogs. Sometimes horses-dogs can get injured chasing dogs-horses.

Mere dog owners might not know this. Especially the kind of dog owners who turn their dogs loose to run and to exercise their personalities. Sweet little Fifi's personality of course is much too sweet to ever chase a big bad horsie. But when sweet little Fifi joins her friends, Mutt, Jeff, and The Garbage Gourmet they run as a pack. When dogs run as a pack you'd hardly recognize them as human.

Mutt and Jeff have personally scentmarked their favorite travel route around quite a large territory. The first time the dog pack discovered the field with the horse in it they merely ran and barked for the strangeness of it. But it was very exciting to make the horse run. Soon the dog pack discovered that if some ran and barked at the head and others at the hocks and another dog or two waited down the field a ways to make the game last longer . . . then you got the fun of chasing and the fun of team work both.

Dog owners take note: Add to your list of people who telephone you screaming, "Lawsuit! Lawsuit!" — not just owners of chickens, rabbits, goats, and parents of small children — but also horse owners. Especially owners of horses kept in large fields as horses have an unfortunate tendency to keep on going right through fences once they've gotten up steam. Most especially owners of ponies and foals. We once watched two St. Bernards in graceful concert take down a half grown Shetland. One leaped for the nose, the other ducked under and got the hind quarter. It took them less than thirty seconds and neither dog made a sound. If we had not been right there the young pony would have been dog-food without passing through a can.

But quite often the dog is the innocent party. It is a little known fact (outside of horseowners who try to keep it from their more innocent friends) that horses will attack dogs. Some horses get to be regular terrors.

Most often this happens in a small corral with a single horse. The dog scrooches under the fence and says, "Oh, Yap! Yap! Look at that!"

The horse has a certain instinct for defending its territory. He also has an instinct for bullying annoyances that are smaller than himself. He lays his ears back, drops his head like a snake, and goes for the dog. If the dog can't get back under the fence fast enough it will be stomped; first by the front hooves, and then while it's rolling, by the back hooves.

This can also happen in a field and with a group of horses. Dogs aren't the only creatures with an instinct to run in packs. Horses have herd instincts too.

In every group one horse designates himself as the leader. Often this is a mare but sometimes it's an ambitious gelding. Here comes the dog pitter patter across the field minding its own business. The lead horse's head goes up. He wants to see what that is. He advances on the now cautiously stopped dog. The horse may advance with a stiff-legged high head trot. It is equally ready for fight or flight.

The dog quite sensibly turns tail and runs. Now here's the surprising thing. Everybody knows that dogs like to chase moving objects. What everybody doesn't know is that horses like to chase moving objects. The lead horse sets off in pursuit of the fleeing dog. The herd which had been waiting to see what was going to happen takes off after the lead horse. In predetermined herd formation, each horse's head alongside the withers of its running mate, they thunder along.

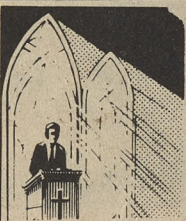

Horses running free are faster than dogs. (When mounted they slow down just enough to make foxhunting an interesting race between fox, hounds, and horses.) The lead horse catches up with the dog and does the fore and hind hoof stomp previously described. The herd comes past the rolling dog and those horses nearest kick sideways at it. Most connect. With very little practice horses get very accurate about kicking on the run.

After galloping on by the herd circles and tries for a second go at the dog. The smart dog heads for the nearest fence at a sharp angle knowing that the herd cannot make quick turns. Dog owners take note: Add to your list of things that'll get a free running dog — not just cars, trucks, dognappers, and people screaming "Lawsuit! Lawsuit!" — but also horses.

The best thing to do about this is not to let your dog run free.

News Briefs

HOMEOWNER'S TAX EXEMPTIONS

Assemblyman Henry Mello (D-28th District) introduced legislation to provide property tax exemptions for homeowners making repairs on their principal residences.

The two-bill package includes a Constitutional Amendment which requires statewide voter approval to become law. Legislation would allow homeowners to make repairs that increase the value of their homes up to $12,000 without facing increased assessments.

The Mello bills are Assembly Constitutional Amendment 52 and Assembly Bill 1337, and do not cover room additions, swimming pools or construction or alteration of structures not attached to the dwelling.

AMBAG PROPOSALS

The Association of Monterey Bay Area Governments (AMBAG) Board of Directors approved work proposals for consultants who may bid on the study of groundwater recharge areas in the Carmel and San Lorenzo groundwater basins, and a management study for water pollution control measures. The AMBAG Board expects to approve specific contracts on April 29.
